How safe do you feel on campus? As part of a master's thesis in the field of civil protection, disaster relief and property security, a student is currently conducting a survey at the University of Wuppertal to assess the sense of security and subjective perception of space.

Your assessments and experiences will help to better understand safety and well-being on campus and to propose improvement measures.

The survey takes about 15–20 minutes and is available until 22 December 2025.
